

Brief Introduction: Kanchan Chopra

Kanchan Chopra, is Former Director and Professor, Institute of Economic Growth, Delhi where she had been a member of the faculty for close to three decades. She holds a Ph. D. from the Delhi School of Economics, is Fellow of the Beijer Institute of Ecological Economics, Stockholm and of the South Asian Network on Development and Environmental Economics. She was elected Fellow of the Third World Academy of Sciences in 2011 and is the recipient of the 2016 Boulding Award of the International Society for Ecological Economics

Kanchan Chopra has authored and co-authored several books, the latest being, “ Development and Environment Policy in India: the last few decades” (Springer, 2017), She has also published extensively in national and international journals.

She was Member, Assessment Panel of the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment, and co-chair of its Policy Responses Group from 2001 to 2005. She was Founder President, the Indian Society for Ecological Economics from 1998-2000 and was again elected its President during 2010-2012. She has also been on the Editorial and Policy Boards of the journals, Environmental and Development Economics and Ecological Economics. Currently, she is Co-editor of “Ecology, Economy and Society: the INSEE Journal”.